Solemn and Impressive Coronation Ceremonies.

KING UNDERSTANDS EMPIRE

George V. Has Traveled Through His Vast Dominions and Acquainted Himself at First Hand With Needs and Aspirations of All the Various People—Queen Mary Decidedly Nervous During the Crowning of the King.

London, June 23.—On the crowning of George V. king of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British dominions beyond the seas there was wanting to make the solemn and impressive ceremony one long to be remembered, not only through the country but in every corner of the great empire.

Never before in history has the imperial note been struck in such a magnificent manner. Its imperial aspect undoubtedly has been the most remarkable feature of the coronation.

George V., more than any sovereign of the past, represents the embodiment of the imperial idea. He only, of all the occupants of the throne, traveled through his vast dominions and thus acquainted himself at first hand with the needs and aspirations of all the various peoples of his empire.

Then the imperial conference sitting at the time of the coronation enabled all the representatives of the overseas dominions to participate in the significant ceremony at the opening of the new reign, which, if the hopes of those attending the conference bear fruit, will bring all parts of the empire into closer and more intimate relations.

The great state pageant was carried through with dignity and impressiveness and made a deep impression upon all those privileged to witness it and it was accompanied by an outburst of loyalty throughout the kingdom that might appear surprising at a period in the world's history when thrones no longer appear to be established on the surest foundations.

Evidence of Devotion and Loyalty.

The remotest suburbs of the great city and every village in the land gave evidence of devotion and loyalty to the throne. Not the humblest home but displayed a flag or illuminated device, portraits of the king and queen and a loyal motto.

The attendants of the general public in the streets, while large, did not approach that at King Edward's coronation. This probably was due to fears engendered by the unusually severe police regulations and the barriers erected to protect the line of the procession route, which under the circumstances therefore proved needless.

Perhaps never in history, certainly never in the experience of any person who witnessed it, has there been an historic scene so magnificent as the ancient abbey of Westminster presented when George V. and Queen Mary were seated in state upon their thrones.

All who attended the crowning of Edward VII. agreed that the ceremony surpassed that spectacle in every circumstance of stately stage setting, of solemn ritual, inspiring music, the host of royal and eminent personages, the wonderful display of rich uniforms, bright gowns, marvelous jewels, which combined to create an impression of awe and admiration.

Dazzling Array of Jewels.

All the women, apart from the peeresses, were arrayed in court costumes, with white feathers in their hair. Many wore tiaras. There was a treasure of precious stones never before collected in one place and costly enough to buy the ships of the British navy.

Apart from the procession, the solemnity and the paraphernalia of state, there was an undercurrent of human interest most appealing. Queen Mary, although she bore herself with regal staidness during her crowning, was at first noticeably nervous. While the king was being anointed and crowned she had her handkerchief at her eyes frequently.

The king, when he received the homage of the heir, displayed a father's affection.

The young Prince of Wales evidently was much pleased with himself, for when the younger children passed his chair on entering and made their obeisances he returned their salutes in the royal manner and with apparent delight.

Appeals Probating of Eddy Will.

Boston, June 23.—The will of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, was admitted to probate in the Suffolk county probate court. Attorney General James M. Swift of Massachusetts immediately took an appeal to the supreme court on the question of domicile.

ADVERSE ACTION
ON TWO BILLS

Senate Committee Reports Wool and Farmers' Free List.

SITUATION STILL VERY BAD

Serious Muddle Exists as Result of Coalition Between Progressives and Democrats, but Things Seem to Be Shaping Themselves in Favor of Canadian Reciprocity—Several Efforts Made to Reach Common Ground.

Washington, June 23.—The muddle in the senate as the result of the coalition between the Democrats and the progressives is still very bad, but things seem to be shaping themselves in favor of Canadian reciprocity and toward the discomfiture of the progressives. Several efforts were made by the progressives and the Democrats to reach the common ground on which they could stand in regard to reciprocity, the farmers' free list bill, the wool bill and other tariff revision measures, but at the end there was no definite prospect of an agreement.

A large majority of the Democrats are in favor of dealing with reciprocity as a separate measure without amendment and rushing it through without delay. With reciprocity out of the way these senators would take up tariff revision.

Senator Bailey of Texas, Senator Simmons of North Carolina and two or three other Democrats, whose opposition to the reciprocity bill is well known, are willing to compromise with the progressives and secure, if possible, an agreement which will bring about an amendment to the reciprocity bill by way of a general revision of the important schedules of the present tariff law. The well known opposition of Bailey and Simmons to reciprocity has led other Democrats, however, to regard their proposal with suspicion and indications are now that nearly all of the Democrats will stand for action on the reciprocity bill without amendment.

Democrats May Caucus.

The Democrats who favor this course are talking of calling a caucus in a few days to commit the party in the senate to this course. These Democrats point out any attempt to amend the reciprocity bill and jeopardize its life in effect be a repudiation of the democratic program of the recently elected house of representatives in regard to this measure. They favor not only the passage of the reciprocity bill in the form it came from the house, but also the passage of the farmers' free list bill and the wool revision bill without any very radical changes.

The progressives, on the other hand, in deserting the regular organization and locking arms with the Democrats, were actuated chiefly by a desire to kill the reciprocity bill and embarrass President Taft. There is no likelihood they will accept either the wool bill or the farmers' free list bill in their present forms and they are in fact already busy drawing up amendments of their own covering most of the important schedules of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

If the Democrats, with the possible exception of Bailey and one or two of his followers, agree to stand by reciprocity without amendment that bill will be passed.

In that event the situation will come to this: Will the Democrats, for the sake of obtaining tariff revision legislation, throw their own measures overboard and consent to compromises which will have the support of the progressives?

The general impression now is that they will not do this.

Chairman Penrose of the finance committee fulfilled his promise made in anger on the floor when it became apparent the Republican majority had been hobbled by the coalition of progressive and Democrats and called a meeting of the finance committee. It resulted in the adverse reporting of the wool bill by a vote of 9 to 4 and the farmers' free list bill by a vote of 8 to 5.

Scales Fall From "Justice."

New York, June 23.—The scales fell from the hands of "Justice" at the New York city hall. For a century or thereabouts the bronze figure surmounting the tower has held the balance with an outstretched arm. A steeple jack will replace the fifty-pound burden in the empty hand.

Acquitted of Arson Charge.

Glenwood, Minn., June 23.—James Adair, proprietor of a book store on Hennepin avenue, Minneapolis, was acquitted by a jury at his trial on a charge of arson in connection with the burning of a store in Westport, of which he was proprietor, on May 15, 1910.

William Hartshorn of Boston Victim of Convention Excitement.

San Francisco, June 23.—William Hartshorn of Boston, who was unanimously elected president of the International Sunday School association, is confined to his apartments in a local hotel here by illness. The strain of preparing for the convention is believed to have been the cause.

Counting the Cost.

The Republicans are counting the cost of the various investigations which the Democrats of the house have ordered and will charge it up against the saving which was made in the discharge of house employees—that is, unless there are important developments by the investigators. It is asserted that the investigations will not show as much misuse of public funds as the investigators have claimed. But petty grafting has certainly been shown.

Oysters as Rat Traps.

Catching rats with oyster shells is the unique method employed by some pearly round about Broome, Western Australia. They leave a large oyster on the floor of the cabin at night. It opens for a breath of fresh air, and the smell of fresh meat attracts the rats. When the rodents think they're getting a little supper, the oyster suddenly decides that he doesn't like fresh air. Next morning the shell is pried open and the dead rat thrown overboard.

MONARCHY IS MORE POPULAR

Frederic Harrison Comments on British Coronation.

London, June 23.—Frederic Harrison, the noted jurist and writer, who saw the coronation of Queen Victoria in 1838, contributes to the Times his impressions of events.

He considers that no period in English history affords an example of such enormous changes as are portentous growth as the three generations since Victoria's accession.

He was struck by the proof that the monarchy is personally more popular than it was at Victoria's accession and that the bitterness of class antagonism is far less evident, while to the man in the street the unity of the king's dominions is of real and potent interest.

He was particularly attracted by the hearty and spontaneous welcome accorded the German crown prince and by the great popularity of the American and French envoys.

ST. PAUL HONORS
FIRST MINNESOTA

Fiftieth Anniversary of Regiment's Departure for War.

St. Paul, June 23.—The celebration of the anniversary of the departure of the First Minnesota regiment was one of the greatest lessons in patriotism ever taught in Minnesota, an anniversary of a vanishing generation of fighters that went straight to the heart of every citizen. To the veteran this honored it was more.

The veterans were appreciative of the honors shown them and at the Auditorium Samuel R. Lilly, former president of the First Minnesota Regiment association, said never before in the martial history of the United States had a military organization been so honored as the First Minnesota regiment in St. Paul.

From early morning until late at night the veterans were entertained at anniversary events and it perhaps was the most strenuous day some of them have witnessed in recent years.

There was a reunion of members of the First Minnesota at the old capitol and Mrs. James J. Hill presented the regiment with a counterpart of the regimental colors given the organization at the time of its departure fifty years ago. Colonel Josiah R. King, the first man voluntarily to enlist in the army after the firing on Fort Sumpter, was crowned with a laurel wreath. Following the bestowal of these honors the business session of the regimental association was held and new officers were elected. R. L. Gorman of St. Paul being chosen to succeed Samuel R. Lilly of Morris-town, Minn.

In the afternoon the members of the First regiment participated in a parade which traversed the principal streets of the city, all gallantly decorated for the occasion.

At the Auditorium informal greetings were extended to the survivors of the famed regiment by Governor Fierhart and Mayor Keller and D. W. Lawler, former mayor, delivered the anniversary oration, lauding the great men of Minnesota who played prominent parts in the Civil war. Former Governor Van Sant was chairman of the meeting and Major Martin McGinnis, second senior officer of the regiment, and Samuel R. Lilly, former president of the regimental association, also spoke.

LISTLESS WORK IN WASHINGTON

COMMITTEES REMAIN IDLE.

As Only Specified Bills Are to Be Reported by Edict of Democratic Caucus There Is Lack of Interest in Many Measures—Conditions May Be Greatly Changed by December.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 2.—[Special.]—In a listless sort of way different committees are considering legislation which has been referred to them, but the fact that the edict of the Democratic caucus prevents reporting any save certain specified bills naturally causes a lack of interest in the measures.

When congress meets in December conditions may be changed to such an extent as to render all the work done now nugatory. As a consequence aside from hearings which are given interested persons the work on general legislation amounts to but very little. More than that, there is a bare quorum of members maintained in the house, and the quorum is only there on occasions and in case of an emergency.

When the regular committees meet there is seldom a quorum present, and nearly every chairman has abandoned any attempt to have the legislative committees assemble unless there is real necessity for action, which is not often.

Recent additions to the cabinet have reduced the age average of the president's official family. Hitchcock was the youngest man in the cabinet and may yet be, although Stimson and Fisher are both young men for the important positions they hold. Secretary Meyer is a comparatively young man, but does not figure in the class with the other three named.

All of the young men have their work cut out for them. Fisher will find the interior department hard to manage. Hitchcock has already had troubles in the postoffice department, and Stimson finds a fine row in progress between the chief of staff and the adjutant general. This is an old contention and has been in progress whenever there was a brassy adjutant general for years and years.

McCall to Slayden.

"I wish you could have seen a fine specimen of a man," remarked Congressman McCall of Massachusetts to Congressman Slayden of Texas. "He was a colored man, with a remarkably fine face, intelligent and imposing. He weighed only 150 pounds and was the center rush on the college football team, which is something unusual. He is William H. Lewis, recently appointed assistant attorney general."

As Slayden is from the south he did not share the enthusiasm of the man from the north. Perhaps these men could have agreed pretty well on almost any other subject before the country, even the tariff, but on the negro, why, there was a real Mason and Dixon's line between them.

Vegetables on the Yukon.

No one has ever believed that Alaska would amount to anything as a farming region, but our agricultural department is making experiments. And along comes a report from our consul at Dawson saying that they are growing tomatoes under glass in that vicinity. They sell for 30 to 50 cents per pound. Lettuce is grown in the same way and sells for $1 and $2 per dozen bunches. Unless the growing is very expensive there might be a fine opening for truck gardening.

They have been growing vegetables in southern Alaska for a number of years, but it is only lately that agriculture has been tried in the Yukon region. The agricultural department says oats, potatoes and other vegetables can be grown along the Yukon river.

Redfield Made a Hit.

Congressman Redfield of Brooklyn made his first speech last week and discussed the tariff. He made a great hit, particularly with the Democratic leaders, who say that it is one of the greatest speeches on the tariff that has been heard in several years.

Sweets and Beer.

Congressman Bartholdt of St. Louis has always opposed every movement for summary legislation and has maintained that it was against public policy.

"If beer were made sweet," said the man from Missouri, "so that it would be pleasant to the taste of women, there would be nothing in the movement against the brewing of beer. The women don't like it because it has a bitter taste, and that is the reason there is a crusade against beer."

Counting the Cost.

The Republicans are counting the cost of the various investigations which the Democrats of the house have ordered and will charge it up against the saving which was made in the discharge of house employees—that is, unless there are important developments by the investigators. It is asserted that the investigations will not show as much misuse of public funds as the investigators have claimed. But petty grafting has certainly been shown.

AMERICANS CELEBRATE DAY

British Subjects in United States Observe Coronation.

New York, June 23.—British subjects in New York city observed coronation day. British shipping was garbed with bunting and flags and many hotels and residences unfurled the Union Jack with the Stars and Stripes.

Special services were held in Old Trinity, where the program was the counterpart of that in Westminster abbey. The invited guests included all the British officials in the city, the foreign consuls, diplomats, officers of the army and navy of the United States, city officials and a thousand or more British residents. A coronation banquet was held at the Hotel Plaza. On board every vessel flying the British flag the crews were awarded extra rations.

CHURCH'S RELATIONS WITH SUGAR TRUST

Former Mormon Bishop Testifies Regarding Dealings.

Washington, June 23.—Inquiry into the relationship between the Mormon church and the American Sugar Refining company, begun before the house committee of inquiry into the sugar trust, disclosed that Henry O. Havemeyer's first dealings in the beet sugar industry were with the Utah Sugar company, in which the Mormon church was interested.

Thomas R. Cutler of Salt Lake, vice president and general manager of the Utah-Iddaho Sugar Refining company and former bishop of the Mormon church, disclosed that, of the approximately $9,500,000 paid up stock of the Utah-Iddaho company, the American Sugar Refining company controls $4,650,050, or 465,050 shares; Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church, as trustee for the church, 49,815 shares; the estate of Henry O. Havemeyer 23,174 shares and the balance is owned by 1,493 individual stockholders.

Mr. Smith, who has been summoned before the committee as a witness, sent word that he is on his way to Washington and will arrive here Monday.

TWO WINNIPEG BOYS DROWN

Winnipeg, June 23.—The deadly undertow of Lake Winnipeg was responsible for the death of two Winnipeg college students, who, with thousands of others, spent coronation day at Winnipeg Beach, sixty miles north of here.

The men were James Howard and Blanchet Jacques, aged eighteen, who, with several companions, were diving off the pier into the lake.

Howard and Jacques, the men drowned, went to the assistance of a friend, Edgar Grant, but did not reach him, owing to the rough sea. The latter was rescued in an exhausted condition. The would-be rescuers failed to make shore.

WOMEN OUTSTRIP THE MEN

So Declares President Schurman in Address to Graduates.

Ithaca, N. Y., June 23.—In his address to the graduating class of Cornell university President Jacob Gould Schurman made a bitter attack on the modern tendency of the people to go in "flocks."

"Our civilization has no self-reliance," he said. "The only virtue we have is conformity. Society follows custom and routine. The redemption of the race is in the originality of individuals."

Woman, he said, are rapidly outstripping the men.

ALDRICH PLAN

KNEW NOTHING OF JACKPOT

Former Governor Yates Testifies in Lorimer Inquiry.

Washington, June 23.—Former Governor Yates of Illinois, who once accused Governor Deneen of playing him falsely in politics and sent word to him through Senator Lorimer that he was a "flat still," denied on the witness stand in the senate committee to investigate the Lorimer election that he had ever heard of the use of money in that election until more than a year afterwards. Both he and George W. Hinman, editor and publisher of the Chicago Inter Ocean, the only other witness, professed the greatest friendship for Mr. Lorimer.

Mr. Hinman expressed the belief that there had been a "jackpot" or general corruption fund in the Springfield legislature for many years, but he pointed to Mr. Lorimer's enemies as the probable contributors.

First Cargo in Twenty-five Years.

Kansas City, June 23.—The Kansas City Navigation company's steamer Chester arrived here, bringing the first cargo that has come to this city by river from New Orleans in twenty-five years.

His address was highly devoted to a careful and coherent elucidation of the Aldrich National Reserve association plan, which he warmly commended as providing for the establishment of the 7,000 national banks of this country on a representative Republican basis.

He declared it a "careful and well drawn plan, devised by a nonpartisan commission, to avoid the concentration of controlling influence either in Wall street or in Washington," and expressed his belief that the plan in its general features ought to commend itself to "the whole business community of the country."

"In all well regulated banking and currency systems of the Old World the power to control cash reserves and the issue of bank notes to be used as currency, is placed under the control of a central bank, recognized by the government and given the necessary authority," he said.

Exigencies Promptly Met.

"In this way the monetary exigencies presented by domestic and foreign trade in the rising and falling demand for currency and in the facilitating of the exchange and liquidation of commercial credit are promptly met."

Senator Aldrich, chairman of the commission, has said correctly that a central bank in this country would be impossible, for political and economic reasons. The people of the country would be unwilling to trust to any private banking organization such enormous control as must be vested in an agency which is to decide as to the concentration of cash reserves and which is to decide upon and provide for the necessary increase and decrease of bank note currency as well as to regulate the liquidation of commercial paper by fixing a uniform discount throughout the country.

"He has said that such an agency must be made by such constituents that it shall be impossible for money kings in Wall street to control it, on the one hand, or for political influence by governmental appointment to direct its operations from Washington; and, in order to evolve an agency free from the control of either of these influences, he proposes and devises in his suggestions to the commission, which seem to have been received with favor, what he calls a national reserve association."

"It is a careful and well drawn plan to avoid the concentration of controlling influence either in Wall street or in Washington."

"I am not a banker, and I do not claim to be a student of finance or of systems of banking and currency; but after such attention as I have been able to give the plan, and to a discussion of it by men who do understand banking, it seems to me that the general features of this plan ought to commend themselves to the whole business community of the country, and by that I mean not only those engaged in banking, railroading, merchandising, manufacturing and general industrial work, but also those interested in mining and agriculture and the whole body of wage earners."

"No one who has been turned into the consideration of economies at all can be blind to the fact that the wage earner is quite as much interested in the proper operation of a sound currency and banking system as are the bankers themselves."

"Similarly the farmers have a most intimate interest in the plan which shall secure for the middleman, at a reasonable rate of interest, funds with which to move the crops and with which to pay adequate prices for that which the farmer has to sell."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Looking and Seeing.

There is much in knowing how to see sights. The discreet and skillful person when confronted with a variety of attractions will carefully select those that are for him the best and then will devise means to see them with the least wear and tear. But there are excitable people who set out to see everything, tire themselves out, see only half of anything and are dissatisfied in the end.

Planked Him.

"I put a new man to work the other day," said a well known contractor to a party of his friends, "and let him in charge of the foreman. It was a class of work the man wasn't exactly used to, but I thought he would make out all right. After having seen him safely started I visited another job and on returning met John limping away. 'Where are you going?' I asked him. 'I got hurt and am going home for the rest of the day,' he replied. 'I asked him what happened, and here is his version of the accident: 'I put my foot on a plank, and the plank wasn't there; then me and the plank fell down together, and the plank broke me leg.'"—Duluth News.

A Prophecy That Failed.

The old Emperor William used to tell a story against himself which well serves to illustrate "that most gratuitous form of error, prophecy." When the emperor was only king of Prussia he saw one day among his troops an untidy looking Lieutenant. "Who is that man?" he asked. "An officer," he was told, "who has just left the Danish service and joined the Prussian." "That man will never get on in the army," said the monarch, and he used to add in telling the story. "The man was Moltke, and my judgment of him gives you the measure of my insight."

Whiting, 360 Willow St., Akron, O., says: "For some time I had a very serious case of kidney trouble and I suffered with backaches and dizzy headaches. I had specks floating before my eyes and I felt all tired out and miserable. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and got a bottle and took them according to directions and results showed almost at once. The pain and dizzy headaches left me, my eyesight became clear and today I can say I am a well woman, thanks to Foley Kidney Pills." For sale by all druggists. mwf-w

STEINBACH CASE IS DISMISSED

The Defense Proves Henry Steinbach and His Wife Had Agreed to Separate

THEREFORE WAS NO DESERTION

Mineral Reserve Tax Case to be Heard in Chambers on Eight Days Notice

In the case of the state against Henry Steinbach, accused of deserting his wife and children, M. E. Ryan, attorney for the defendant, proved from his evidence submitted that husband and wife had agreed to separate and under such condition there could be no desertion. The action was dismissed and the defendant discharged.

A very important case was called and an order entered therein by the court. This is the case of the county against the Pine Tree Lumber Co. for the collection of what is termed "mineral reserve" taxes of $2 per acre on over 500 parcels of land the company has in this county. The company objects to paying such a tax. An order was entered that the case be taken up on eight days notice in chambers. It is considered probable that Judge McClenahan will hear the matter. The tax commission of the state is deeply interested in the outcome of this suit.

The case of the First Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church, of St. Paul vs Knights of Labor Building association was called for trial and the case was continued for want of prosecution.

The case of W. H. Conrad vs John T. Cronquist was called and no plaintiff was present. The case was continued.

The case of Andrew Christianson vs William W. Barnes and Helen M. Barnes was stricken from the calendar.

An order was entered allowing W. W. Barron, attorney for Erick Maki, $10 per day for his services as defendant's attorney.

The case of A. G. Shulind, a Crosby contractor, vs Theodore Lake and Geo. H. Crosby, was on trial yesterday afternoon.

SOME AUTO NOTES

Think of Having a Policeman With You and Full Permission to Search

A unique experience was that of an automobile owner of this city who offered his auto to the police who boarded it and told him to "hit it up" for a certain part of town. And the owner certainly made his machine hum. It was the fastest short distance run ever made in this city.

A unique experience happened to an autoist with a large party in his car. While running along a country road he encountered a farmer driving a team of unruly colts. They persisted in keeping the road and the man with the benzine car tried to pass him. It was impossible to do it on the narrow roadway and both came to a halt. The colts started backing and one of them actually sat on the mud guard of the auto and smashed it to pieces.

A Crosby man left home with a party of three on one of these hot days and promised his own and the wife of each of his party to return promptly by six that evening. Ten miles from Brainerd on the return trip his tire blew up and he crawled to Brainerd on his rim. He arrived at Crosby 2 A. M.

Science has not developed gasoline engines past the bucking stage.

A Brainerd visitor at Crosby took his car and party to the end of Cross avenue to view the lake and docks and then stuck in the sand and was unable to turn around. It took the whole dock population to put the auto back to firm footing.

Some repair men have confessed that they have tinkered around a machine which started up on its own accord.

Something should be done to mark country roads so that a visiting driver will not run slowly up a fair road and then come full tilt on a long stretch of sandy hill like Hay Creek hill, which has proven a trap for many machines. A notice down the road would warn a driver of trouble.

HORSE THIEF IS ARRESTED

Special by Phone to Dispatch:—

Deerwood, Minn., June 23, 1911.—John Humphrey, the liveryman, became suspicious when a stranger offered him a good team and buggy at a ridiculously low figure last night and he notified Officer Lamey. The stranger was held and later it was ascertained that he was an alleged horse thief, accused with another man of renting a livery team for two days from a barn at St. Peter in the southern part of the state and decamping with the outfit.

BROUGHT TO TOWN

Deputy Sheriff Winters arrived this noon with Eugene George Gaston, alleged to have stolen a livery rig from St. Peter, the suspect having been arrested at Deerwood.

Inquiry about the city revealed the fact that the two men with the rig had tried to dispose of the team on Wednesday at two barns in Brainerd. At one place they offered the outfit for $200 and at Purdy's they were willing to take $150, $125 and even $100 for the two horses and buggy. There was a reward offered for them but no one knew about it at Brainerd at the time.

MINERAL TAX CASE IS HEARD

Thos. S. McClure Objects to Paying $2 Tax on Mineral Reserve Lands in County

20 DAYS TO FILE BRIEFS

His Attorney, Geo. W. Stewart, Expects Right of Court to Enter Judgment in Matter

There was heard this morning by Judge C. W. Stanton, of the district court, one of the most important cases of the whole term.

It involved the right of taxing mineral reservation rights, that is, of taxing lands for surface value and then adding an additional tax of $2 per acre.

Thomas S. McClure has 2,000 acres of land in the county in townships, 138-28; 138-29 and 43-30. His attorney, George W. Stewart, of Stewart & Brower, of St. Cloud, voiced an energetic protest for his client.

Mr. Stewart maintained that there existed no authority for such an assessment, nor for the preparation of such a delinquent tax list or the publication of the same. He took exception to the right of the court to enter judgment in this matter.

The case is of the utmost importance to mining men, investors and even the townsites promoters, who in some cases are reserving mineral rights.

Twenty days was given the attorneys in the case, W. A. Fleming for the county and Stewart & Brower for the defense, to file briefs.

Judge Stanton announced that court was about to adjourn and the attorneys and officers present informally thanked Judge Stanton for the uniform courtesy he had shown all during the session. The judge then declared court adjourned sine die.

The district court for this term had been in session 23 days. One of the weightiest cases disposed of was the Maki murder case which bids fair to cost the county $1,500.

MORE RECIPROCITY

Farmer of Long Lake Township Shows Where Reciprocity Has Weak Place

"In speaking about this reciprocity business or whatever you call it," said a farmer of Long Lake township, "I have noticed that the principle is not carried out by some people. The other morning a fellow from Brainerd got stuck in the sand with his automobile and he routed me out at five o'clock in the morning to pull him out and I did it and didn't charge him for it at all and helped him all I could."

"The next week I came to town with a load of hay and broke down and that fellow passed me on the street. Do you think he would come over and give me a hand to get righted? Not on your life. He was too busy for that and had no time for reciprocity."

B. B. GAYLORD GOES TO RANDALL

Geo. H. Crosby in Town—Many Auto Parties—Preparing for the Glorious Fourth

Crosby, Minn., June 22.—The Crosby Athletic club is planning on building a club house, 24 by 36 feet in dimensions and one story in height, in the Lake Front park facing Serpent lake. Within will be an auditorium 24 by 26 feet in size in which may also be held the meetings of the Commercial club. There will be ladies and gentlemen's rooms, shower baths, with 16 lockers in each dressing room. The athletic club now enjoys a membership of 36.

Mr. Gaylord traveled 10 miles on the rim of that wheel and got to Brainerd at midnight. The machine was repaired and he again set out. It was a great trip and Will S. Pitt, Ben Mizen and S. G. Latta did a lot of explaining when they reached home two o'clock in the morning instead of six in the evening before.

Henry Spalding was at Brainerd on Wednesday.

Miss Leila Pitt, of Lenox college, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will S. Pitt. Miss Rose Wood, of Oelwein, Iowa, the sister of Mrs. Pitt, is also visiting them.

The council met on Tuesday evening and President M. F. Crosby, Clerk S. G. Latta and Trustee H. Lefkovits were present. A proposition of the Aitkin-Deerwood Telephone Co. was submitted by that company but the matter was laid over to the next meeting. An ordinance was adopted ordering all bicycles off the sidewalks. An ordinance was also adopted ordering all bathers to use bathing suits.

There are many fine picnicking grounds in the vicinity of Crosby and arrangements are being made to have these in shape for the numerous parties who will spend the Fourth there.

The Mother of the World.
Marriage is the mother of the world and preserves kingdoms and fills cities and churches and heaven itself. Marriage, like the useful bee, builds a house and gathers sweetness from every flower, and labors and unites into societies and republics, and sends out colonies, and feeds the world with delicacies, and obeys their king, and keeps order, and exercises many virtues, and is that state of good things in which God hath designed the present constitution of the world.—Jeremy Taylor.

JOINING THE ARMY

HIS PAY AND HIS PROSPECTS.

Even as a Private He Can Run His Salary Up to $35 a Month, and as a "Noncom" He Can Double That and In Time Retire Rich and Pensioned.

There are many opportunities open to the man who enlists in the United States army and wears the uniform of Uncle Sam with honor to himself and his country. The pay is good, the food is good, and the chances for advancement are numerous. It is up to the individual man himself to make good and to take advantage of the situation.

Writing in the Columbian Magazine on army affairs, Edward Marshall in discussing the status of the enlisted man says:

Summarized, this is what a man who thinks of marching for his Uncle Samuel as an enlisted man has to consider:

On first enlistment the soldier for Old Glory nowadays gets $15 a month, far better pay, for instance, than the average clerk's, for board, lodging and clothing are furnished by the government. If he qualifies as marksman he adds $2 to his pay; if as a sharpshooter he gets $3 in addition; if as an expert rifleman a full third more. Thus he may at once get $20 monthly cash and found if he is able and keeps busy.

If he enlists as a musician he gets $21 monthly to start off with, the highest "bookie's" pay. In the signal corps, the hospital corps and the engineers' corps first class privates get $18 monthly, and second class privates get $15.

Upon enlistment every man is allowed $83.70 for his uniforms, etc., and afterward $13.54 twice annually. At least one-half the men save money on their clothing allowance, which is more than ample. Privates' pay increases $3 a month for each three year enlistment. An expert rifleman who never gets to be a petty officer, therefore, can run his pay up, with good conduct and intelligence, to $35 a month and all his necessities "found" in five enlistments covering fifteen years.

Noncommissioned officers are taken from the ranks on recommendation of their company or troop commanders and are often given their posts upon their first enlistments. These men are really well paid. A sergeant major is allotted to each regiment. He receives $45 monthly when he is appointed and $4 additional per month each time he re-enlists. Regimental commissary sergeants, regimental quartermaster's sergeants and the three battalion sergeants in each regiment get the same high pay. Each company has a first sergeant at $36, with an increase of $4 upon re-enlistments; a second sergeant at $26, with $3 increase for each re-enlistment; a corporal at $18, with $3 each for re-enlistments. The government acts as banker for the soldiers, too. If they desire to have it, and noncommissioned officers have left the service with as much as $20,000 saved—not one, but many. If he sticks tight to the service for full thirty years a noncommissioned officer is entitled to retirement on pay ranging from one-half to three-quarters of his service pay. Seventy dollars monthly is not unusual pay for a "noncom" to retire on. And every year of service seen outside the United States counts as two years at a home post. A man, therefore, after fifteen years of service in the islands may retire on his half pay.

The food the "noncoms" and the other enlisted men are given is wholesome and well cooked, the medical attendance free and able, post and garrison schools have been provided at all posts for the primary branches, and at several posts trade schools have been established. A worthy man, no matter where he may be stationed, is almost certain to get transfer to a "school post" if he asks for it. Cooking, baking, blacksmithing, veterinary surgery, electrical and stationary engineering, all are taught at these trade schools, as well as many other things. Thus a boy who has had little chance to get an education may, after he has joined the army, get a very good one.

There seems to be but one thing which army life does not offer to the enlisted man. But that one thing is home.

In its degree indeed the life of the enlisted man now offers more inducements than the life of the West Pointer. The commissioned officer's pay is small when his expenses and the effort he must make to get commission are considered, and, furthermore, the noncommissioned officer is not so subject to political influences as the West Pointer, who gives him his commands.

A Painter's Retort.
Shortly after Franz Lenbach had painted the portrait of Emperor Wil helm I, a privy councillor called on him to a party, commencing with satisfaction. There was only one criticism to make—would the professor be so kind as to paint more distinctly the buttons on the uniform, which were only indicated vaguely? Lenbach looked at him a moment over his glasses and said: "Look here, Mr. Councillor, I paint heads, not buttons and not your knoepfe. Tell his majesty that!" The emperor when this answer was brought to him laughed heartily.

When Cricket Playing Was a Crime.
Until a century and a half ago our great national pastime in fact figured in the statute book as a crime. The game was declared illegal in the time of Edward IV., owing to its having become so popular as to interfere with archery, the then sport of kings. The law against it was vigorously enforced, and every person convicted of playing the game was fined £10 or sent to prison. It was not until the formation of the famous Hambledon club in 1749 that the statute was repealed.—Pall Mall Gazette.

PUNY KIDDIE

Poor, puny little kiddie! Something is wrong. Healthy children grow. Give your child Kickapoo Worm Killer (the nice-tasting candy lozenges) and you will see him grow as fast as any healthy child should grow. Try this—you will be enthusiastic.

Price, 25c., sold by druggists everywhere.
